Certificate Programs

In addition to majoring in one of the departments listed above, many students choose to complete one or more certificate programs. In some cases they constitute a focus within a particular department (e.g., the creative writing track in English); in other cases they are interdisciplinary (e.g., environmental studies). Programs award a certificate of proficiency. If, in addition to the choices of major you indicated above, you also have an interest in any of the programs listed below, please indicate the two in which you are most interested at this time. Again, your choices are not binding in any way.

Self-Reported Testing

Princeton University recommends that you self-report all of your AP, IB or curriculum-based external exam results on your application. Please provide this information below:

Extracurricular Activity and Work Experience

Briefly elaborate on an activity, organization, work experience, or hobby that has been particularly meaningful to you. (Please respond in about 150 words.)

More About You

Please respond to each question in 50 words or fewer. There are no right or wrong answers. Be yourself!

1. What is a new skill you would like to learn in college?

2. What brings you joy?

3. What song represents the soundtrack of your life at this moment?

Higher Education Experience

1. Have you had any interruptions or gaps in your education since high school or college, or have you left any school voluntarily for a significant timeframe? If so, please explain the timeline of your post-secondary career. (Please respond in about 150 words.) We also welcome this in the format of a resume or CV if you feel this would more comprehensively cover this information.

2. What are your plans during and after your higher education experience? (Please respond in about 150 words.)

Essay: Your Voice

Please respond to each question in an essay of about 250 words.

1. At Princeton, we value diverse perspectives and the ability to have respectful dialogue about difficult issues. Share a time when you had a conversation with a person or a group of people about a difficult topic. What insight did you gain, and how would you incorporate that knowledge into your thinking in the future?

2. Princeton has a longstanding commitment to service and civic engagement. Tell us how your story intersects (or will intersect) with these ideals.

For A.B. Degree Applicants or Those Who are Undecided:

As a research institution that also prides itself on its liberal arts curriculum, Princeton allows students to explore areas across the humanities and the arts, the natural sciences, and the social sciences. What academic areas most pique your curiosity, and how do the programs offered at Princeton suit your particular interests? (Please respond in about 250 words.)

For B.S.E. Degree Applicants:

Please describe why you are interested in studying engineering at Princeton. Include any of your experiences in, or exposure to engineering, and how you think the programs offered at the University suit your particular interests. (Please respond in about 250 words.)

Graded Written Paper

Princeton requires you to submit a graded written paper as part of your application. You may submit this material now or any time before the transfer application deadline of March 1, 2021. If you choose not to include the required paper at this time, you may mail, e-mail or upload your paper through the applicant portal. Detailed instructions for our graded paper requirement can be found on the 'How To Apply' section of our Admission Website.

Do you wish to submit a graded written paper at this time?  Yes  No

Conviction History

We ask about conviction history to ensure that we collect information important to assessing the composition of our teaching and learning community. We invite you to disclose honestly and completely the relevant information about prior misdemeanor or felony convictions, and to describe in as much detail as you'd like the ways in which this experience has had an impact on your life.

Regardless of your conviction history, we urge you to complete your application. A prior conviction does NOT disqualify an applicant for consideration for admission to Princeton. In fact, information about an applicant's conviction history will not be available to the reader the first time an application is reviewed in our process. Covering this box will ensure that the initial reading of any applicant's file will not discriminate on the basis of their conviction history. When the file is read subsequently, the information will be shared, but will be considered in the context of the first, non-prejudicial review of the application.

Princeton believes knowing an applicant's prior conviction history is relevant as we invite students to participate in our campus community. We also believe that past mistakes often happen in contexts that deserve and require explanation and amplification. We strongly urge you to tell us your story and to explain how your experience has affected your life, as you complete and submit your application for admission to Princeton.

Have you ever been adjudicated guilty or convicted of a misdemeanor and/or felony?

Yes  No

If you checked yes, please tell us about your guilty adjudication or conviction and describe in as much detail as you'd like, the ways in which this experience has had an impact on your life.
